

SCHMITZ JURY IS COMPLETED EVERYTHING IN READINESS FOR TRIAL

EXTRA!

LAST JUROR IS SECURED THIS AFTERNOON

All twelve of the jurors in the Schmitz case have been secured. The last juror's name is Royal W. Cudworth, a coal dealer of 2022 Green street.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Contrary to expectations, the Schmitz jury was not completed this morning, although when Judge Dunne's court adjourned last night only one juror was required to complete the panel. This morning, however, soon after court reopened, two men became necessary to complete the jury to try the case. This was due to the fact that Heney re-examined Juror Boeckman on the ground that he was so related to Tiley L. Ford by marriage and sympathy that he could not give the case a fair hearing. Ford and Schmitz are joint defendants in another proceeding. Heney challenged for cause and the court allowed the challenge. Hugh Burns, of 385 Capp street, was then accepted as the eleventh juror and several other talesmen were examined for the twelfth position, but without avail. The venire then became exhausted and a new venire of twenty-five names was ordered to be secured by the sheriff and reported to the court by 3 o'clock this afternoon. If the jury should be completed this afternoon, testimony will not be introduced in the court because at noon all the witnesses who were present were excused until tomorrow morning.

[By Associated Press.]
SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Instead of proceeding at once to the selection of the twelfth juror when the Schmitz trial was resumed this morning, Assistant District Attorney Heney applied to the court for permission under Section 1068 of the Penal Code to ask further questions of one of the eleven jurors "on information received since last night's adjournment which we think will bring out facts warranting a challenge for cause." This permission was granted over the objection of the defense, by whom the application was designated as "incompetent, irregular, improper and calculated if not designed to intimidate jurors and make them think that they are under suspicion by the prosecution; and calculated if not designed, to make it more difficult for the interrogated juror to give the defendant a fair and impartial trial and the full benefit of any and every reasonable doubt."
AT FUTURE TIME.
In overruling this objection, Judge Dunne said that if it should appear at any time that a challenge for cause was well placed he thought the challenge should be allowed, and he did not see how the rights of the defendant would be thereby affected.
"But," interposed Attorney Campbell of the defense, "the point is this: Our peremptory challenges have been exhausted. If the juror who is about to be interrogated be dismissed on challenge for cause, his place in the box will be taken by another venireman, and the right to challenge that venireman peremptorily we do not possess."
"The objection is overruled," replied Judge Dunne.
Addressing himself to Juror Boeckman, Mr. Heney asked: "You have a son?"
"Yes."
RELATED TO FORD.
"He is married to a sister of Tiley L. Ford's wife?" (Tiley L. Ford, general counsel for the United Railroads, is indicted jointly with Ruef and Schmitz on charges of bribing Supervisors to award a trolley franchise to that corporation.)
"Yes."
"Does this son and his wife live with you?"
"Yes."
At this point the defense entered vigorous objection to this line of questioning on the ground that it did not tend to develop any state of facts arising under the juror was sworn. The objection was overruled.
Juror Boeckman arose and addressed Judge Dunne:
"I appeal to you the other day," he said, "to excuse me from serving on this jury. I can do things more worth my while. My business needs me. And I thought, too, that I had a son as a juror in the United States."

ACCOUNTS ARE IN MUDDLED CONDITION

Serious Charges Are Made Against W. J. Wilson.

BERKELEY, June 4.—W. J. Wilson, who has been chief clerk and cashier of the Berkeley postoffice for the past three years, was summarily discharged this morning by Postoffice Inspector Madeira. While no positive charges are given out, it is understood that the reasons for Wilson's discharge are as follows: Accounts badly mixed, and shortage; bogus pay rolls and padding, and others that are duplicates, also theft of a diamond ring by some one in the postoffice. It is alleged that high living, automobiles, and rapid life in general are the principal causes for Wilson's downfall. Mr. Wilson has been in the Berkeley postoffice for a period of twelve years, and for the past three years occupied the position of chief clerk and cashier, succeeding his brother, the late Bert Wilson, to that office. He is prominent in the Elk Lodge, and has always been proud of his social position. Postmaster Schmitz could not be found this morning, those of his staff saying he had gone over to the headquarters of the government inspectors in San Francisco. The defalcations and the accusations against Wilson were as much of a surprise to the postmaster as to anyone else in the city. It is known that the postmaster had no knowledge of Wilson's misdoings and has always conducted the office in a proper way. "There are all kinds of rumors floating relative to the causes leading to the dismissal of Chief Clerk Wilson. Some people believe in all that has been said, while others refuse to give the rumors the slightest credence. "Jim would have to tell me he was wrong before I would believe this story," said a prominent business man. "I have known him all his life and have never known him to do a dishonest thing."
ON VACATION.
Wilson is on his vacation, starting June 1st. The order was received here on that date, and became effective at once.
DISMISSAL ORDERED.
Postmaster Schmitz said this afternoon: "I simply received an order from the department ordering the dismissal of Wilson. What the inspectors may have on Wilson I do not know, yet it was on their recommendation that the order was issued. He has been with me throughout my term of office and I know him to be honest and industrious. I assert emphatically that there is no shortage in this office through his fault. I have known him all his life and have never known him to do a dishonest thing."
SECOND ADD WILSON BERK P. O. him, and I do not think the inspectors can show anything of the character against him.
"It may be a personal fight against Wilson, I do not know. The matter is entirely out of my hands now. Pending the inspectors' public report I trust that Jim's friends will withhold their judgment as I cannot believe that this can possibly be true."
NO SHORTAGE, SAYS SCHMITZ.
Schmitz continued to assert his splendid qualities, saying he was honest as a dollar, while he knew from a personal investigation that there was no shortage in his accounts.
Both Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are prominent socially and have always taken leading parts in the benevolent and other activities of the town. Both are natives of California and belong to the Native Sons and Native Daughters organizations. Mrs. Wilson is prostrated at the rumors and refuses to discuss them with anyone.

By JOSEPH E. BAKER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—As I reached the Jewish temple on Bush-street, where Schmitz is being tried, Rudolph Spreckels came out with Detective Burns. Spreckels was giving Burns directions in a hurried tone. Burns dashed off in an automobile, and Spreckels returned to his accustomed seat behind the District Attorney. A black-muzzled individual sat in the aisleway with his chair tilted back against a pillar, blocking the ingress to the table set apart for newspaper men. When I asked him politely to take a seat across the aisle that I might be able to see and hear, he swelled up and said: "I am here with Mr. Burns and am sitting here by his orders." This incident pretty thoroughly illustrates the attitude and demeanor of everybody connected with the prosecution. Over night Heney had discovered that Juror Frederick Boeckman has a son who is married to a sister of the wife of Tiley L. Ford, attorney for the United Railroads. Ford is indicted jointly with Schmitz on another charge. Amid a volley of objections from Barrett and Fairall, Heney put Boeckman through a rapid fire catechism regarding his family relations, his associations with Ford, and what he thought of Calhoun and the car strike. Young Boeckman has charge of a jerk-water railroad in South San Francisco, but Boeckman stoutly insisted that he was entirely unprejudiced and would try the case fairly. He finally grew cholerical under the badgering and stated that he objected to serving in the first place and would now be glad to get off. "I can make better use of my time than sitting on this jury," he said testily. "Would any of those facts influence your verdict?" inquired Judge Dunne. "No, sir." However, Judge Dunne allowed Heney's challenge for cause on the ground of the consanguinity of his son's wife to the wife of Tiley L. Ford. Barrett has ceased to scent battle like a war horse, and is suave and courteous in manner and language to the Court and attorneys for the prosecution, but Heney is more beligerent than ever. Late yesterday afternoon, he kept up a fire of aggravating interruptions while Barrett was examining talesmen. Without making formal objection he sneeringly referred to some of Barrett's questions as "rot." Judge Dunne paid no attention whatever to the interruptions and jibing asides, although it has been his practice to sharply rebuke Barrett and Fairall when they broke in on the proceedings with interruptions and asides. If every man, even remotely connected in a business, social or family way with the persons connected with the various persons indicted or connected with the railroad, gas, telephone companies and the city government, is to be disqualified as a jurymen, it is difficult to see how the graft cases are to be tried in San Francisco. Judge Dunne has so broadened the ground for disqualification that a mere acquaintance with a defendant is assumed to bar a man from jury service. This reminds me of what Gavin McNab said when I met him on Van Ness avenue yesterday afternoon and asked him how the graft crusade was coming on. "As well as could be expected from a Grand Jury that programs and answers 'aye' to whatever Heney says, and a red rubber stamp for a Judge," replied the acrid Scot. Since the publication of the testimony taken by the Grand Jury in connection with alleged gas bribery, much wonder is being expressed that John Martin and Eugene de Sabla should have been indicted. There is nothing in the printed testimony to show that Martin or de Sabla ever had any dealings with Ruef or the Supervisors or ever authorized the payment of any money to Ruef. Frank G. Drum alone dealt with Ruef, and the fallen Boss swore that Drum paid him the $20,000 solely as a fee; that in the conversation in regard to fixing the gas rate, there never was any suggestion of bribery or of paying money to the Supervisors. Martin and de Sabla appeared to have been indicted on general principals, being leading directors of the gas company. Their indictment has provoked the gossips to recall the circumstances attending the retirement of Rudolph Spreckels from the presidency of the gas monopoly. A good many are wondering if the severance of Spreckels' connection with the gas company has not left some rankering resentment. Judge Dunne gets rather brusque at times in speaking to talesmen whose answers do not please him. For instance, while Barrett was volubly objecting to Heney's challenge for cause of Nathaniel Handley, who admitted to a friendly feeling for Schmitz, his honor

CLAIMS HAYWOOD LED MURDERERS Witnesses Take Stand

BOISE, Idaho, June 4.—Court opened at 9:30 a. m. At 9:45 a. m., James H. Hawley commenced his address to the jury. Hawley said that they expected to prove that the officers and executive committee of the Western Federation of Miners were responsible not only for the death of Steunenberg, but of scores of others besides, including Arthur Collins of Telluride. Defense objected, but objection was overruled. In reply to a question from the court Hawley said he expected to prove everything he said and that in his statements he would keep far within the "scope of the credence." Hawley said the inner circle of the Western Federation of Miners aimed at controlling not only the organization of the Western Federation of Miners, but the government of the different states where the organization existed. Hawley said that they would prove that after Orchard's arrest, he received a telegram signed "M" which was followed by the presence of Caldwell of Miller, one of the counsel now defending Haywood. Hawley drew an affecting word picture of the assassination of Frank Steunenberg on the night of December 20, 1901, and described the arrest of Orchard. Hawley announced that Orchard had made a "full confession," to McPartland and that Orchard and McPartland would be on the stand. He said the prosecution would produce a letter from Pettibone to Orchard when the latter was in jail. Hawley said that he would prove that the Western Federation of Miners

The Empress Dowager has telegraphed urgent instruction to the local governor to take measures to relieve the distress.

THE OFFICE BOY OBJECTS TO STRIKES

Strikes are in the air, and I don't like them.
 But there always have been strikes
 since those days when Pharaoh's slaves struck against making bricks in old Egypt, right down to 3:30 p. m.
 yesterday when I saw an old-timer strike the boss for a quarter.
 Then at the ball-game last Sunday,
 I struck out, and I didn't like that.
 And then come more serious strikes,
 and there are a few of them on now.
 What strikes me is this—there never was a strike that didn't end, and why can't it end before it begins.
 When I see my boss adjusting the little incidents that crop up daily in any big business, I can't help wishing there were more like him. He just wants the straight of it every time and when he's through arbitrating everybody is satisfied.
 The way he arbitrates between values and prices I would respectfully present to Messrs. Calhoun and Cor-nellius.
 Take it in the case of those swell straw hats for boys; the values look like $1.50—the price on 'em is $1.00, and they're going like an ice-cream corner-copie slides down my throat
 when I go to a dime theater.
 Now, how does this talk strike you?

WILL PUT UP NEW WHARVES

Harbor League Endorses Proposed Improvements on Waterfront.

At a meeting of the executive council of the Harbor League, resolutions were adopted heartily endorsing the proposal of Dr. Jackson, the chairman of the harbor committee of the City Council, who recommended that the city engineer be instructed to prepare plans and estimates for the construction of wharves between Western Pacific and Southern Pacific wharves.

The Harbor League, supporting the Chamber of Commerce, the Board of Exchange, and the city administration, proposes to keep the waterfront improvement in prominent place in the city approval of the necessary bond issue.

WILL IMPROVE WHARVES.
 As the city assessor states that we will have $25,000 more income than last year, a liberal appropriation should be set out in next year's budget for improvement of the waterfront. The city engineer, who has been working on the waterfront wharves on the bay front a smaller bond issue, which can be paid in conjunction with the bonds for a new city hall.

By request of the mayor the Harbor
 League appointed a committee comprising Dr. Jackson, the chairman of the Board of Exchange, Dr. Edward Collins, Chamber of Commerce; R. M. Collins, Merchants Exchange; Charles M. Collins, Alameda
 County Progress club; J. S. Joseph, Berkeley East Side Improvement club, who will confer with Mayor Muir and the city officials at a date to be fixed by them.

The next meeting of the Harbor
 League will be held Thursday evening,
 June 13, at the rooms of the Builders'
 Exchange at 425 Third street, near Broadway, by their kind invitation.

SPEAKERS AT NEXT MEETING.
 Attorney Charles M. Collins of the Alameda County Progress club, J. S. Joseph, Berkeley East Side Improvement club, and Assistant Secretary of the State Board of Trade, and other good speakers will address the meeting.

Congressman Knowland has consented to address the Harbor League at its meeting on June 12, and Ex-Governor Fardie has promised to address the league at some future date.

In the words of Charles M. Collins of the Alameda County Progress club, "If we improve our waterfront with wharves and docking facilities to accommodate shipping, both deep water and shallow, we shall then be in a position to reach out for the commerce of the Pacific, which is but in its infancy."

HALF-BRED BOY CLAIMS ESTATE
 GRAND FORKS, N. D., June 4.—
 Attorneys have been searching throughout Kentucky, Illinois and Wisconsin for witnesses by whom they hope to prove the legitimacy of the half-bred son of a Mr. Hedrick, a farmer and merchant of Williston, and thereby establish his claim to the fortune of his reputed father amounting to $100,000.
 The case will come up in the district court during the present term on an appeal from the Probate court, which decided adversely upon the claims of the alleged son. Owing to the amount involved and the prominence of Mr. Hedrick, the case has attracted much attention in the western part of the state, and the trial in the district court is expected to bring out some interesting testimony.
 According to the attorneys for the claimant, Hedrick, who at the time of his death was a well-to-do merchant in Williston, in pioneer days, had married and won the heart and hand of an Indian girl. The claim is made that the white man married the Indian by the rites of the church, but this is disputed. At any rate there was offspring from this marriage—one son.
 Afterward Hedrick married a white woman.

STARTS CRUSADE AGAINST UNLICENSED ROADHOUSES

Otto Schwartz, Manager of Baurhofer's
 Fruitvale Gardens, Is First to Fall Into Sheriff's Hands.

Sheriff Barnett has commenced a vigorous campaign against roadhouses which are selling liquor without licenses. It is the intention of the Sheriff to prosecute the proprietors of these illicit resorts to the full extent of the law. In pursuance of his avowed policy, Sheriff Barnett has arrested Otto Schwartz, who conducts Baurhofer's gardens, in Upper Fruitvale, and charged him with violating the liquor ordinance.

Several months ago the Board of Supervisors refused to grant a license to Schwartz on the ground that his place was run in a disorderly manner.
 It was commonly reported at the time that Schwartz had boasted of his intention to retail liquor without the sanction of the authorities. Barnett was accompanied by Deputy-Sheriff Sturtevant and Bolter when Schwartz's arrest was accomplished. Relly and Barnett remained outside while Sturtevant entered the resort and ordered beer. As soon as he was served the other sheriffs appeared and took the proprietor into custody. He was released on $500 bonds, pending the hearing of charges against him.

MAKES INVESTIGATION.
 The Sheriff has made a thorough investigation of the conduct of road-houses throughout the county. He said yesterday:
 "The condition of affairs of Alameda County with reference to the violation of the liquor license ordinance is such that I am in receipt of many complaints with reference to the manner in which boys and women are supplied with liquor by establishments

GRAND JURY ACCUSES DINAN OF TAMPERING WITH JURORS

Within Ten Days Police Chief Must Answer Before Superior Court to Charge of Misconduct.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Chief of Police Dinan stands accused by the grand jury of willful and corrupt misconduct in office. He is accused of using his department to do private detective work for Mayor Schmitz.

Dinan's punishment, in case he is found guilty, will be removal from office by the Superior Court. He is entitled to have a jury trial, or to have his case heard by a Superior Judge.
 It will be ten days before he is summoned to appear in court.

court. It would please me very much if you would excuse me now."
 No reply was made to this statement.
 "Are you aware," continued Heney,
 "that Tiley L. Ford is jointly indicted with this defendant?"
 "Yes."
 "Did Tiley L. Ford at one time live in the same block with you?"
 "Yes."

NO DISCUSSION.
 "How often during that time did he visit your home?"
 "Perhaps once a month."
 "Is your son, the president of a street railway in South San Francisco belonging to the United Railroads?"
 "Yes."
 "Has this son ever talked with you about the charges against Mr. Ford and Mayor Schmitz?"
 "No."
 "Has his wife?"
 "No, there has been no discussion of these matters in my house. I permit of no discussion of the case of Patrick Calhoun's course in the street car strike, are you not?"
 No answer.
 "Haven't you expressed yourself?
 You entertain that opinion, don't you?"
 "No, I have formed no opinion in that matter."
 "Have you an opinion as to the motives prompting this prosecution?"
 "No, I don't know anything about it."
 "We challenge the juror," said Mr.
 Heney, "on the ground that in view
 of his relationship to the defendant, who is jointly indicted with the defendant, Schmitz, and his connection with a business owned by the United Railroads, he is not in a state of mind with relation to this case or his principle involved that permits him to act with entire impartiality and prejudice to the rights of the people."

JUROR DISMISSED.
 "The challenge is allowed," said Judge Dunne, "the juror may stand aside."
 Attorney Barrett for the defense formally assigned as "misconduct," the objection by the prosecution, the remarks of counsel for the State, as the ruling by the court.
 His associate counsel, Mr. Fairall, at this point renewed formally yesterday's motion to grant to the defense the right to exercise ten additional challenges. "On the ground that the jury as now constituted is not the jury which we accepted."
 The motion was overruled. The dismissal of Mr. Boeckmann left in the box ten sworn jurors and a venireman, unexamined and un-sworn. Hug Burns, a retired shoe merchant and a Scotchman, proved satisfactory to both sides, and was quickly accepted and sworn as the eleventh juror.

CASTLE EXCUSED.
 Walter M. Castle, wholesale grocer, stated that sickness among the employes of his firm made him very loath to serve. He was excused by consent.
 Hans Pennington was excused for confessed bias.
 The examination of the next tales-man, Nathaniel Hansen, resulted in his challenge by the State for cause.
 The defense resisted, and under cross-examination by Attorney Barrett, Mr. Hansen claimed that the opinion he held, as to the possible guilt of the mayor, would not influence him in reaching a verdict.
 The prosecution evaded a strong de-neglecting a bad back.

 The residents of Sunol are waging a determined warfare against the issuance of a saloon license to John Martin. An earnest plea was made by the citizens who opposed to the opening of the saloon was presented to the Board of Supervisors yesterday by Attorney Abe Leach. He pointed out that there are already two saloons in Sunol, whose registration roll shows 101 voters. If the new license is granted there will be a saloon for every 35 voters. Martin withdrew his old application, and submitted a new one, naming another part of the town as the location of his proposed establishment. No action has been taken as yet by the Board.

The decomposed remains of an unidentified man were found yesterday in Niles Canyon. Coroner Tidale has ordered an investigation, but believes that the dead man was an employee of one of the railroad camps, and was stricken while walking in the canyon.
 His clothes are those of a laboring man.
 A memorandum book in which the inscription "J. Askin with F. Hophauer" was written, was found on the body.
 The body, judging from its condition,
 may have been in the creek for more than a month.

HONEY AND BARRETT WAGE WAR OVER JUROR IN COURT

Judge Dunne Overrules Three Strong Objections of Schmitz's Counsel and Proceeds With Questioning.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—When the trial of Mayor Schmitz was called this morning, Honey rose and said that, under Section 1040 of the Penal Code, he desired to ask further questions of the juror, because of the information which had come to him since the juror was sworn. He then asked the section in question, which is to the effect that challenges should be exercised before the jurors are sworn, save with the permission of the court for cause, when they may be examined after being sworn and then excused for cause or by peremptory challenge.

He stated that in the Durant case a re-examination had taken place of a juror after he had been sworn, but the examination did not result in a peremptory challenge. In another case, the re-examination resulted in a challenge for cause.

BARRETT OBJECTS.
Barrett objected to the examination on the ground that it was incompetent, irrelevant and calculated, if not so designed, to intimidate the jury.

Barrett argued for a while, but Judge Dunne cut him off. Barrett asked if the court would hear argument from Honey.

"I don't want to hear arguments from anybody," said the court.

Barrett's objection was overruled. Honey then began to re-examine Juror Boeckman, who was accepted yesterday.

"You have an only son?"
"Yes," was the answer.

"Is he married to a sister of Tires L. Ford's wife?"
"He is."

"He lives with you?"
"Yes."

"Does Tires L. Ford live in the same block in which you reside?"
"No."

OBJECTS TO ALL.
To all these questions Barrett objected, but the objections were overruled.

Then Boeckman, himself, rose and addressing Judge Dunne, said: "I told your honor yesterday that I wanted to be excused, as I have thought had a legal excuse as I have served the months in the United States court. I would like to be excused now. I would rather be excused if there is any doubt about it."

"You would like to be excused?" asked the court.

"Yes," was the reply.

Honey resumed his re-examination. "You are aware," he said, "that Tires L. Ford was indicted as one of the defendants with Mayor Schmitz, are you not?"

"Yes."

"Ford is a frequent visitor at your house?"

ORDERS ANSWERS.
This, and in fact, all the questions following were objected to, but the court ordered it and them to be answered.

"Not often," was the reply.

"Was Mr. Ford, when he resided in your neighborhood, a frequent visitor at your home?"

"About once a month."

"Is your son president of a small railroad in South San Francisco which belongs to the United Railroads?"

"Yes."

"Is he or are you president of light and power company recently established by the United Railroads?"

"I have no connection whatever with the United Railroads."

"Did your son secure the appointment to the presidency of the South San Francisco Railway company through Tires L. Ford?"

"I do not know."

"Your son talked to you about the charges made against Ford and the Mayor?"

"No."

"And you have heard no discussion about the matter?"

"No."

"You are an ardent advocate of the party taken by Calhoun in the car strike?"

Strongly objected to by Barrett but the objection was overruled.

"Have you ever expressed an opinion?"

"You entertain such an opinion, don't you?"

"I don't entertain any opinion whatever."

"Have you any opinion as to the motives of the prosecution in this case?"

"I have not formed an opinion in the case and won't until I hear the evidence."

"I asked you as regards the motives of the prosecution?"

"No."

CHALLENGES FOR CAUSE.
We challenge the juror for cause, on the ground that he is closely allied to Tires L. Ford, one of the men jointly indicted with the defendant, Schmitz, and connected with the United Railroads, and that he is not in a state of mind to enable him to act in an impartial manner.

Barrett denied the challenge.

The challenge, however, was allowed by the court.

Barrett took exception on the ground of misconduct to all the questions propounded by Honey and to the action of the court.

Barrett then moved that the defense be allowed to examine the juror peremptory challenges in view of the precedent established by the prosecution.

Barrett then undertook to re-examine Juror Ehrlich.

Honey asked if the examination was based on some fact which had been established since the juror was sworn.

Barrett said he wanted to find out whether or not the juror had been able to put his opinion out of his head.

Honey objected and the court allowed the objection.

Honey, of 335 Capp street, a former shoe dealer, was accepted by the prosecution, and the defense having exhausted its peremptory challenges, had no alternative, but to accept him also.

EXCUSES CASTLE.
Walter M. Castle was excused because a partner in the firm of Castle and Dunne, another one was sick, and he was the only one who was able to attend to business.

Festus was excused because he had an opinion.

Handley was passed by both the prosecution and the defense. The juror took him in hand again and ascertained that Handley had a son-in-law who was a soldier. He also ascertained that Handley had an opinion in the case, but that opinion was not so strong as it had been several weeks ago.

Honey challenged the talesman for cause.

"We deny the challenge," said Barrett.

"The challenge may be allowed," said Judge Dunne.

Barrett, rising, argued and emphasizing the last words almost to the limit of his retort.

ORDERED TO SEAT.
The juror was ordered to the court.

"That is my privilege," said Barrett, emphasizing the word "is."

"In view of the challenges which have just been allowed by the court," said Judge Dunne, "the juror should be seated."

Barrett, take your seat," said the court.

"You deny me," said Barrett, "the right of making this application?"

"The juror is seated," said Judge Dunne.

"Haven't I," persisted Barrett, "a right to make this application in this court in behalf of my client?"

"The application is denied," said the court.

"I have taken my exception," said Barrett.

Otto Fink and Sigmund J. Newman were excused. The juror asked them to take an opinion in the case, and Miller O. Alexander was allowed to go because he was not in the assembly.

The juror then returned to the bench and returned two days ago by the sheriff and still one juror was required to complete the jury.

ORDERS ANSWERS.
This, and in fact, all the questions following were objected to, but the court ordered it and them to be answered.

"Not often," was the reply.

"Was Mr. Ford, when he resided in your neighborhood, a frequent visitor at your home?"

"About once a month."

"Is your son president of a small railroad in South San Francisco which belongs to the United Railroads?"

"Yes."

"Is he or are you president of light and power company recently established by the United Railroads?"

"I have no connection whatever with the United Railroads."

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Whether Frederick A. Zeckham and Moses Haas of New York will be brought to Washington to trial upon the charge of being parties to a conspiracy to divulge advance information concerning the crop reports of the agricultural department in 1903 was the subject of a sharp fight today between counsel in connection with the trial of Edwin S. Holmes, former assistant statistician of that department upon the charge of giving information.

Attorney M. Beach, employed by the government as special counsel to prosecute the cotton leak case, was making the opening statement and in outlining the alleged agreement by which Holmes was to supply premature information through Peckham and Haas to the New York brokers, said that those two men would be brought here later for trial.

"I object," shouted Attorney Worthington, rising from Holmes' side. "The court will not allow them to be brought here."

"And I object to that statement," sharply responded Mr. Beach.

BABE WITH MATCHES SETS HOUSE ON FIRE

Deputy Sheriff John H. Reilly nearly lost his home on Quigley avenue near the Redwood road yesterday afternoon as the result of a playful trick of his three-year-old son Raymond. The little fellow discovered a bunch of matches and instead of giving the whole package to his mother, who was in the front room, he kept a few and lit them in the bed room.

His little six-year-old sister Magie missed her brother and ran in the house looking for him. She discovered flames pouring out of the bed room, he kept a few and lit them. She closed the door and threw water on the flames. By shutting the door while she went after another pail of water, the flames were smothered and soon put out.

Several suits of clothes were ruined, but otherwise the house escaped damage.

WEDDED NEAR SPRING IN A SYLOAN DELL

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was that of Miss Florence Edwards of Los Gatos to Louis Page of Berkeley, celebrated last Saturday. Mr. Page is the son of Major George C. Page and is well known in the college town. He is in charge of the campus at the First National Bank. Miss Edwards' home was near Los Gatos, the beautiful resort, Glendora Ranch, conducted by her mother and Mrs. L. S. Edwards. It was at this mountain home that the ceremony occurred.

The event was unconventional. At a spot near a spring a screen was formed between the trees of tall woodwards, and a bare tree of Glendora, the bride and groom were seated. Here the bride couple and the minister, the Rev. Wesley Peck of Los Gatos, took their vows. The families and friends gathered about.

The bride was dressed in a white lawn of her own embroidery. It was the noon hour of a perfect day. When the few and impressive words of the marriage service had been spoken, with rose leaves, dropped cleverly from the bell above their heads. This was followed by a reception of congratulations and best wishes, and then the whole company, led by Mr. and Mrs. Page, moved in groups to the house where the wedding feast was spread beneath the arching madrones.

Later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Page took train for one of the loveliest resorts of the State, where they will spend some time before taking up their residence in Berkeley. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. L. S. Edwards, Marion, Helen and Lois Edwards, and Mr. Henry C. Page, Ernest Page and Mrs. C. E. Herlitz, of Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Page, of Glendora; Mr. and Mrs. Miss Cecilia Stratton, of Oakland; the Rev. Mr. Wesley Peck, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gator, of Berkeley; Miss Vida Verrill, Miss Kathryn Burns, Miss Louise Berryman and Mr. Willard G. Parsons, all of Berkeley.

LOW FARE FRANCHISE IS DECLARED INVALID

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 4.—The Supreme court in a decision in the suit of the City of Cleveland against William Reynolds, gave a great victory for the Cleveland Consolidated railway company and a blow to low fares. The case involved the validity of the franchise of the Erie and Central avenues. The circuit court upheld validity of franchises of the consolidated company and the Supreme court sustained the circuit court, thus invalidating the low fare franchises.

MAY PUNISH BRUTAL CHINESE MURDERER

WASHINGTON, June 4.—The commander of the coiler Brutus has been instructed to turn over to the civil authorities at Norfolk, Va., the Chinese fireman who last week stabbed to death a Chinese oiler on that vessel because he had refused to pay a debt of one dollar. It appears that neither of the Chinese were entitled to admission to the United States, under the terms of the exclusion law, hence an interesting question may be raised as to jurisdiction in this criminal proceeding.

ALAMEDA, June 4.—The condition of City Clerk Frank Browning, who was stricken with paralysis of the limbs yesterday, is much improved and though his condition is serious it is not dangerous. He suffered a sudden relapse yesterday morning and was unable to leave his home. Last night Councilman Christensen moved that all trees outside of the curb line on the city streets be cut down. Mayor Taylor objected to the motion on the ground that many residents are bitterly opposed to the destruction of the trees which greatly enhance the beauty of the city. FIERCE BATTLE WITH TWO DEPUTY SHERIFFS Man and Wife Try to Down Officers Who Went to Make Arrest.

Deputy Sheriffs George Wales and George Sturtevant had a fierce battle this morning with H. Harmon, who runs Harmon's store in the Redwood canyon. Had it not been for the bravery of Sheriff Barnett's men a murder would have resulted from the battle. Harmon has been running a "blind pig" at his store in the canyon. The sheriff got absolute evidence that he was violating the law and caused a warrant to be issued for his arrest on a charge of selling liquor without a license.

This morning the two deputies went to Harmon's place to make the arrest. Harmon drew a big revolver and threatened to shoot. Wales jumped him and a fierce battle ensued. Sturtevant went to the rescue and he was jumped by Mrs. Harmon. After a desperate struggle the officers handcuffed Harmon and took him to the city prison. There it was found that Harmon's big pistol was loaded.

WILL ONLY PAY DEFICIT TO MUNICIPAL LIGHTING PLANT

Alameda City Council Finance Committee Recommends Cut in April Bill From $1409 to $24.

ALAMEDA, June 4.—A committee session of the Council was held last night before the regular meeting at which the members decided to change the manner in which the city has been paying the Municipal electric light plant for the power furnished. Heretofore the plant has sent in a bill each month for the city lighting and the arrears have been estimated at $4.50 each. Last night after the regular meeting was called Councilman Bullock moved a resolution that the city should pay the deficit of the plant at the rate of $24.40.

"Your committee has given this matter careful consideration and it is their opinion with the facts and conditions above stated that this claim should be reduced to $24.40." (Signed) E. B. BULLOCK, WM. H. NOY, MAURICE BROWN, Finance Committee.

BOXING PERMIT GRANTED.

Company G. N. G. C. was granted a permit to hold a boxing contest on the evening of June 27, in its armory on Park street.

City Attorney Simpson filed a written report, solicited by the Council, in which he stated that he had looked up the transaction from which George Plummer wanted to be released and found that in 1891 Plummer had received $400 from the city as a payment for a lot on Sherman street, near Dayton avenue which the city wanted for a school site. When the bonds were defeated the city could not pay for the lot. Simpson recommended that the city give Plummer the desired release provided he returned the $400. His suggestion was carried as a motion.

CHEAP STREET LIGHTS.

"Taking the report on file of the electric light department for the month of April, we find that the operating expenses of the plant to be $3865.10. We also find that the revenue from commercial lighting and power, etc., was $3640.70 which shows that the actual cost to the city for its lighting for streets and public buildings to be the nominal sum of $24.40 or 8 1/2-100 cents per foot light. The city is responsible for the cost of its lighting be it $24 or $2400, and the general fund should not be called upon to pay any more than the deficit in each month, whatever it may be. We also find on examination that the operating expenses of the plant are the most rigid economy to get through and pay current demands and salaries of fire, police and city hall, until the new levy of taxes is available.

SUGGEST BIG CUT.
"Your committee considers that the electric light plant should have the credit due to its successful management in reducing the city lighting to a nominal figure, and it is also due to the interested public who pay the taxes that they have this information, while we are now considering the expenditure which have been recommended for the still further betterment of the plant."

CLUBMAN LEFT $75,000 DEBTS

Son of Former Mayor Pond Disappears, Leaving Heavy Liabilities.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Edward Pond, prominent clubman, and son of former Mayor Edward B. Pond of this city, has disappeared, leaving debts estimated at $75,000. Samuel F. Pond, brother of the fugitive, says that his assets will nearly meet the liabilities.

ELOPEMENT'S LITTLE LARK

Father of Modesto Girl Who Ran Away at Seventeen Wants Marriage Annulled.

As the sequel to an elopement in which pretty seventeen-year-old Lena H. Young, a member of the younger set of Modesto, was the bride, comes a suit brought by her father against her young husband for an annulment of the marriage. The complaint was filed this morning by Attorney P. H. Griffin of Modesto, in which Shrudor Young the plaintiff, states that his daughter and Walter W. Reichert ran away and were married in this city, February 19; that she is under age, and was married without the consent of her parents.

The marriage license book reveals the fact that a license was issued by Deputy Clerk J. A. Kirk to the couple on February 18. That age of the bride was given as eighteen while her youthful spouse said his age was twenty-one. The residence and birthplace of the pair was given as Oakland.

Young's attorney says the elopement was a little lark and that the young wife should not be obliged to live up to any obligations or promises she made when deceiving the preacher.

The marriage license book reveals the fact that a license was issued by Deputy Clerk J. A. Kirk to the couple on February 18. That age of the bride was given as eighteen while her youthful spouse said his age was twenty-one. The residence and birthplace of the pair was given as Oakland.

PRISON OFFICERS ARE SAID TO TORTURE

DENVER, Col., June 4.—The News today prints a story from Santa Fe, N. M., to the effect that a local newspaper charges the officers of the Territorial Penitentiary with barbaric treatment of prisoners. An incident is told in which it is alleged that one of the prisoners was strung up by his manacles to the ceiling of the cell, with his toes barely touching the floor, and allowed to remain in this position for seventeen days. During this time, it is charged, his rations consisted of bread and water, and it was only when the prisoner lay in a dead faint that he was released from his torture. The charges are now being investigated by the Acting Governor, and the Attorney General.

JAP LEADER DEMANDS APOLOGY FROM MAYOR

TOKIO, June 4.—Count Okuma, former leader of the progressive party, who has retired from active politics, but who is still a leader of public opinion, is pre-eminently quoted in the opposition newspapers as urging the concentration of Japanese national efforts toward the settlement of the San Francisco problem; that Japan should demand public apology from the Mayor of San Francisco and also that the Japanese should receive treatment similar to that given to Anglo-Saxons in the United States.

KNOCK-OUT BY IRATE FATHER

Gay Young Stock Broker, Accused by Young Girl, Is Beaten in Courtroom.

PHILADELPHIA, June 4.—When Walter Hunter, a young stock broker, was arraigned before Magistrate Boyle on charges preferred by fifteen-year-old Mamie James and her sister, the father of the girl was so angered by the nature of the charges that he sprang at Hunter, dealt him a terrific blow in the face and knocked him down. Stalwart policemen and constables attached to the Magistrate's office seized the irate parent and restrained him from inflicting further injury upon the prisoner. Mr. James swore that he would kill Hunter on sight. When the young broker was taken to the city hall to answer the charge preferred by the father, he was closely guarded and a policeman also watched Mr. James and endeavored to persuade him to let the law deal with the accused man.

The accused man was Walter Hunter, twenty-one years old, of 437 Osage avenue. He was committed without bail by Magistrate Boyle on the charge of assault on Mamie James and later was arraigned at the Central station on a warrant sworn out by Mamie's nineteen-year-old sister, who also prefers a grave charge against him.

CLAIM WOMAN SLEW SERVANT

Mrs. Kauffman Accused of Torturing Maid Because She Resembled Dead Daughter.

SIoux FALLS, S. D., June 4.—The most remarkable criminal trial ever held in South Dakota is on in the State circuit court with the formal pleading by Mrs. Emma Kauffman, wife of a millionaire brewer, to the charge of manslaughter for the killing of her 16-year-old maid, Agnes Poller.

The State, in its assignment of a motive for the murder of the girl, brings forward the astounding accusation that Mrs. Kauffman was led to torture her servant until she died, because of her resemblance to Mrs. Kauffman's daughter, who died some years ago.

It will be charged by the State's prosecutor that Mrs. Kauffman was in the habit of gazing for long periods at a full length portrait of her daughter, and that after she had gone through one of these states of contemplation of the picture she was led to vent her maniacal grief upon the little servant maid who resembled the dead girl.

Mrs. Kauffman declares the girl fell down stairs. There were forty-nine cuts and bruises on the body of the Polier girl when it was examined after being exhumed. These had been inflicted by various kinds of blunt and sharp instruments. There were evidences of inhuman cruelty. In addition it appeared that after being subjected to the tortures, the girl had been forced to bathe her wounds in turpentine and lye.

The revelations concerning the manner of the girl's death came about through the information supplied the police by Peter Erickson, another servant in the Kauffman household. He declared that he had seen the girl just before she died, and that she had died as a result of the tortures she had undergone. It was upon his story that the body was exhumed.

Mrs. Kauffman was arrested but was admitted to $25,000 bail. The position of her husband and herself in the community was such that her friends refused to believe in the charges against her. The bond of $25,000 demanded for her release was signed by a number of prominent citizens of Sioux Falls, and she spent the time since last November, when the arrest occurred, in seclusion in the East.

ARRESTED FOR GIVING A BOGUS CHECK

Deputy Sheriff George Boysson this morning arrested a man named Waldman alias W. Walker alias C. E. Snow, on a charge of passing a bogus check on Ben Walters. The latter saw the bogus check man on the street and turned him over to the officer. It is thought that the prisoner has passed several bogus checks. Sheriff Barnett is investigating his career.

WILL INSTALL AUTO BUSES

Carmen's Union Proposes to Put Up Strong Opposition to United Railroads.

[TRIBUNE CORRESPONDENCE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The executive committee of the Carmen's Union voted this morning to accept the proposition made by an eastern concern to place an extensive line of automobile busses in operation in San Francisco.

The union proposes to sell two hundred thousand shares of stock and with this money to capitalize the local automobile line. The busses to be furnished are large passenger motors, which will carry a large number of passengers and make time nearly equal to that of the street cars. The union believes they can compete successfully with the street car service when these busses are installed.

President Cornelius says it is an outrage that union men continue to be arrested for acts of violence which cannot be proven against them. He says there is no question of the innocence of the men charged, charged with placing dynamite under cars last night. He makes the statement that, it is his belief, the dynamite cartridges are the work of the strike-breakers or representatives of the company who are doing it for an excuse to have union leaders arrested.

LONGSHOREMEN IN BIG BATTLE

Unionists Attack Non-Union Men—Many Are Seriously Wounded.

NEW YORK, June 4.—Two hundred striking longshoremen, about twenty non-union men and several policemen had a pitched battle today on Pier "B" in Jersey City. One of the union men was terribly gashed in the head and two others badly wounded, were spirited away by friends. Pistols, knives, clubs and stones were used in the encounter. It started when the non-union men were on their way to work upon the Italian steamship Regina D'Altilia. On the other side of the pier 200 union longshoremen were unloading another steamer, when they saw the non-union men they charged upon them; and only after all the leaders of the strikers had been laid low by the clubs of the policemen.

SEND OUT ALL THEIR WAGONS

Laundries Break all Records in Collecting Soiled Clothing From Patrons.

All laundries of Alameda county sent out their wagons this morning, but owing to the absence of the greater portion of the working forces of the companies the laundries will be handicapped for some time. Proprietors of the several laundries say it is their opinion that it will be but a short time before this difficulty is removed and work be progressing as smoothly as before. Judging from the great piles of soiled clothing collected this morning the laundries will do a record-breaking business for a long time.

IRA BUTLER IS HARD PERSON TO IDENTIFY

Ira Butler, the sly young man who is facing a jury in Judge Melvin's court for the bold robbery of last February in the Albany saloon, has a very good chance of acquittal for all the witnesses who were help up and robbed at the muzzle of two revolvers, cannot lay the identity of the robber to the door of young Butler, who takes much delight in watching the witnesses one by one fail to fasten any clue upon him.

Neil Carey said on the witness stand yesterday afternoon that he was not positive whether Butler was the size or build of the robber, and that owing to the heavy mask the man wore it was impossible to discern the features of his face.

W. L. Stewart, a bartender, was a witness for the prosecution this morning. He was likewise inaccurate in fitting the robber's description to Butler. Dr. Theodore Olmstead, who was in the saloon at the time of the robbery, and William Chase, bartender, were not positive of Butler's identity today. They recognized the clothes that were discarded by the robber, but Butler they are not sure of. The case will probably be concluded tomorrow.

CORONER'S JURY DECLARES COLLINS' DEATH ACCIDENTAL

James Twoohy, Who Engaged in Fist Fight With Decedent Prior to Fatal Fall, Is Exonerated.

LIVERMORE, June 4.—The coroner's jury last night held an inquest upon the cause of death of John Collins of this city. The testimony of the witnesses showed that there was an encounter between the decedent and John Twoohy, in which no serious damage resulted other than the discoloration of Collins' eye, but Collins afterward fell and struck upon the cement pavement, thereby causing a concussion of the brain.

Dr. Warner, the attending physician, testified that it would be a physical impossibility for a man to inflict with his fist such a bruise as was found to exist in this case.

The jury accordingly rendered a verdict that Collins came to his death from an accidental fall, thereby exonerating Twoohy.

PROVERBS FOR PEACHES Being Some Advice About Flirting

"This should teach thee that men desire most that which is unattainable. No fruit is so luscious as that which dangleth just beyond the arm's reach, and no maiden so alluring as the one who is just so high above a man's head that he risketh his life in climbing up to her."—Selika, the Wise Woman.

Play Coy, Girls, Make Yourself Difficult to Get; Cost a Man Something.

These be the words of Selika, the Wise Woman, spoken to her daughter in the month when the bloom of the peach tree made a pink and white snow upon the hillsides:

"Consider, my daughter, the ways of the peach, which is the emblem of thy sex, for it is beautiful and graceful as a woman, sweet to the taste on all men's lips, and yet nourisheth life. Yea, more, like a woman, the peach flourisheth best by its own doorstep.

"Learn, therefore, of the peach and be wise. Observe, my child:

"The ripest peach hangs highest on the tree.

"This should teach thee that men desire most that which is unattainable. No fruit is so luscious as that which dangleth just beyond the arm's reach, and no maiden so alluring as the one who is just so high above a man's head that he risketh his life in climbing up to her.

"Therefore, if you would be sought by men hold yourself aloof. Play coy. Make yourself difficult to get, and in proportion as thy favor costs a man danger and bruises and scheming and effort to win, so shall he struggle for it.

"Consider, likewise, my daughter, that distance lends allurement to the peach that hangeth highest on the tree. Preadventure it is no roser, no sweeter, of no more perfect shape than the one that hangeth on the lowest bough, but the one at hand is within reach so that every man may see its imperfections, while the other is too far away for the eye to mark its blemishes. This teaches us, my child, why the woman who chummeth with all men hath many friends and no husband.

"Consider, also, my daughter: 'No man gathereth the overripe peach.

"I know not, my daughter, why the peach that is ready to fall into any man's hand no man desireth, and every man passeth it by; but I did not make man and I can only put thee next to his ways, which are strange and past all reasoning. And this is even as I tell thee, and what is true with his way of the peach is also true of his way with woman.

"The woman who hath prepared herself to make a good wife, who understandeth the pot and the pan, and eke the gas range; who hath skill with the needle and can cunningly patch and mend, and who is frugal with the mazuma, and who wearleth not in her chase of a husband, is never feet-footed enough to catch one. Many, yea, verily, a multitude of widows and old maids have I seen upon the anxious seat waiting for a husband, and loud have I heard their lamentations. 'Anybody. O Lord, anybody!' but in vain were their supplications.

"Therefore, my daughter, be not a peach that is ready to drop into any mouth. Keep always a firm grip on the parent stem, and turn toward men a side that is a little hard and bitter, and chat looketh as if it might have a tang to it. So shalt thou escape the mortification of having been offered and rejected in case thou dost not marry.

"Likewise, forget not, my daughter: 'That neither nature nor art can give back the down to the peach when it hath once been rubbed off.

"What the down is to the peach, my child, the innocence and ignorance of youth are to a maiden. It is made up of dew and dawn, and all subtle allurements and enchantments, and it is so perishable that at a touch, a word, a look it vanisheth forever.

"Many women, O my daughter, do foolishly, but none so foolish as she who thinketh to render herself attractive to men by shedding the down

UP AGAINST IT

A young man was seen recently in Piedmont with two heads on his shoulders. Both were fully developed, with rather handsome features. The young man is not a museum freak as might be supposed. The other head was the property of his sweetheart, and probably would not have been seen in that deformed position had it not been for the young lady's neglect to pull of feminine reserve and reticence, and delicacy. They call this variety of peach in the market place 'The Good Fellow,' and every passerby turneth it around and handleth it, and the gossips relate strange stories in its presence, and mayhap, at last, some one with a strong stomach purchaseth it, but the connoisseur passeth by to where the fresh peaches lie with the down still upon their rosy cheeks.

"By and by the old peach perceiveth her mistake and seeketh to undo what is done, and to affect the innocence and unsophistication that she has lost, but in vain. The blush cometh back no more to the cheek that is hardened, nor the look of innocence to the eyes that have seen. Therefore, my daughter, be not in haste to lose that innocence and unworl'dliness that are the chief charm of woman to man, and that hath been the means of many a simpton catching a good husband, or if thou wilt look about thee, thou wilt perceive that most of the foolpeach.

GIRL'S SILK HOSIERY IS OUT OF SIGHT

Vesta Victoria, the English music hall singer who fills an engagement and silk stockings equally well, recovered $4, the value of silk stockings once hers, in the Tenth District Municipal Court yesterday.

The songstress, it is said, receives $3500 a week for twelve performances of thirty minutes each—mighty close to $7 a minute—so her time is valuable. Nevertheless, she passed several hundred dollars' worth of her time in court pressing her suit. She was there so long that she had to telephone to the theater where she is appearing that she would be thirty minutes late ($210 worth) late.

Vesta Victoria sued for the value of other things than silk stockings, but Justice Murray and everybody else seemed most interested in the stockings. Her counsel, Alfred Beckman, of House, Grossman & Vorhaus, put in this itemized bill against the Lexington Hotel Company:

Four pairs of silk hose at..... $4.00
One silk waist..... 15.00
One silk waist with lace..... 70.00
One 16-inch blue feather..... 15.00

Total..... $104.00

They wear everyday, ordinary silk stockings, the songstress explained. She went on to tell Justice Murray that she had a suite at the Lexington Hotel, No. 155 West Forty-seventh street, from the time she arrived in this country in January last until April.

"One evening I wished to put on a pair of the stockings," said Vesta Vic-

"Consider, also, my daughter: 'Even a shrivelled peach looketh rosy when a pink mosquito netting covereth the basket.

"Learn from this, O child of my heart, the value of environment and dress. If thou hast beauty, enhance it by raiment that will bring out thy strong points, and if preadventure heaven hath dealt hardly by thee, and bestowed upon thee a pug nose, curly hair and a figure of the similitude of a bean pole, withhold not thy hand from purchasing the imported gown, yea, and the pattern hat, so shalt men, beholding thy fine feathers, mistake them for thee, and great shall be thy praise in the bazaars.

"These be the lessons of the peach. I, who was once young and a peach myself, and am now old and canned, speak them unto thee, who art still a wilt perceive that most of the foolpeach."

nor my blue feather. I told of my loss at the hotel office, but the management disclaimed all responsibility for it and would not reimburse me. So I brought this suit."

"Judgment for the full amount, $104," said Justice Murray, finally, and displaying, with vestal modesty, only a glimpse of a silk stocking, Vesta Victoria hastened from court to the theater.

THIS WOMAN WANTS HUSBAND; HE NEED NOT BE HANDSOME OR WEALTHY BUT MUST WEIGH 200

A Chicago woman, a lonely widow who pines for a husband, thus advertises:

"Wanted—A husband, by middle-aged, lonely widow. He need not be handsome or wealthy, but he must weigh 200 pounds. Address Mrs. Rosa Benkos, 4009 Lake avenue."

She says: "You know, 200-pound men always have nice dispositions. They always are so affectionate and never flit with other women. They are just big enough to be strong, and still not so fat that they are lazy, and you always can feel that you've got a husband who can thrash any one who insults you.

"I wouldn't have a millionaire if he were thrown at me, and I couldn't feel sure of keeping a handsome man, so I don't care about the money or looks.

"Of course, I don't want a beggar or loafer, but just a nice, big man, who can hold down a fair-paying job.

"I don't know any one in Chicago, and so I thought I'd advertise for a man."

FOR WOMAN BEAUTIFUL

The constant use of toilet pumice with a lather of toilet soap will keep the growth of superfluous hair invisible, but it will not permanently remove it.

Perfumed hair, providing it is properly done, is always a suitable attraction, and is worth doing. The daintiest kind of tiny sachet bag can be used for this.

A little camphor applied to a wet cloth will whiten the skin, but it should be used sparingly, with a cream afterward. A few drops put into lukewarm water and applied with a sponge after one has come in from an outdoor trip is extremely refreshing.

Exercise will improve the appearance of the neck. That, with deep breathing, which fills the lungs to their utmost capacity, develops the chest and the neck. The tops of the lungs come just above the middle of the collar bones on each side, and if they are not expanded when one breathes the air is not changed in the upper part, and the tiny air cells of which they are composed collapse. Therefore exercise your lungs with deep breathing exercises. If you would have healthy lungs and a fine chest. To do this draw in the breath, gradually filling the lungs, and then as slowly expel the air. It is well when you have filled your chest to its full capacity to tap the chest lightly with the fingers several times.

OLD MEN ARE WORST FLIRTS, ASSERTS GIRL

NEW YORK, June 4.—Charged with assault, John Fleig, thirty-two years old, married, an employee of the Knickerbocker Hotel, was held yesterday by Magistrate Walsh, in Morrisania Court, for his appearance in Special Sessions. Clara Sniffen, a pretty sixteen-year-old salesgirl in a Sixth avenue department store, who lives at No. 855 East One Hundred and Sixty-fifth street, is the complainant. Her mother and sister accompanied her to court.

"I saw him coming down the Subway stairs," said Miss Sniffen, "and I stepped back out of his way. He leered at me and passed me several times. I turned my back and started to walk away. Then he grabbed me. I succeeded in breaking away from him, and I struck him in the face as hard as I possibly could.

"I have found that very few young men flirt with pretty girls. It is the old, married men with families who do the flirting."

Fleig was arrested at the entrance to the Prospect avenue subway station on Monday night after Miss Sniffen had slapped his face. When arraigned Fleig, who lives with his wife at No. 1188 Hewitt place, the Bronx, entered a plea of not guilty. He said he was intoxicated at the time and had no recollection of annoying the girl, but after hearing the evidence Magistrate Walsh held him in $500 bail.

The prisoner is a well-dressed man of heavy build. He told the court that he had signed a petition asking Commissioner Bingham to protect the women of the neighborhood from just such annoyances as he was himself charged with. Mrs. Fleig remained at her husband's side during his examination and offered him every encouragement.

UNIONS STRIKE
OVER BAD MEAT

Woodworker Discharged for Complaining of Union Board,
Re-Instated—Walkout.

CHICAGO, June 4.—The fact that there are no rules governing "union" boardings is deplored by Louis Kirmse, proprietor of the Commercial Cabinet Company, who has a strike on his hands today because a union woodworker employed by him for Sunday dinner.

Two unions, the carpenters and the woodworkers, are interested in determining the quality of the steak. The carpenters struck in sympathy with the foreman who discharged the "fussy" woodworker and was himself discharged. The woodworkers struck because the foreman was reinstated. The plant is practically tied up as a result of the union row.

DISSENTED WITH DINNER.

The woodworker in question, according to Anton Johnson, business agent of the union, living at a "shop" boardinghouse conducted by the "shop steward" of the carpenter's union. Last Sunday, it is said, he was displeased with the quality of the dinner. He was served but it was not tender, as usual. The "shop steward" in his capacity of boardinghouse-keeper, insisted that the steak was first-class. The controversy resulted in the woodworker changing boardinghouses. Yesterday he lost his job, being discharged by the foreman of the plant. Mr. Kirmse then was appealed to, and ignorant of consequences, reinstated the discharged man, at the same time getting a new foreman. The carpenter's strike followed four men walking out. Mr. Kirmse upon reflection offered to take back his old foreman to appease the strikers. Thereupon sixteen woodworkers went on strike. Now all are refusing to go to work.

PRINCE WHO FORFEITED
BIRTHRIGHT IS BROKE

THE HAGUE, June 4.—Prince Eberhard of Bismarck-Stenfurt, who some time ago forfeited his rights of inheritance and his position in the German army by marrying the daughter of a bankrupt, is now bankrupt. After the wedding he rented a castle near The Hague, perhaps seeking for recognition by his aunt, the Queen Dowager of the Netherlands, but neither she nor Queen Wilhelmina nor the aristocracy noticed him. His failure to pay rent for the castle has led to its seizure by bailiffs whose presence, however, did not disconcert the Prince and Princess. They merrily played tennis, ignoring the officers who watched the game. The pair have now gone to Germany, leaving the bailiffs in possession.

REAL ESTATE MEN TO JOIN IN AUTO RUN

BERKELEY, June 4.—Fifteen or twenty automobiles will leave here at six o'clock Thursday morning for San Jose, bearing Berkeley members of the California State Realty Federation. These will be joined in Oakland and Alameda by a big delegation and the run to San Jose will be made to arrive there at 9:30 o'clock, in time for the opening session of the third annual meeting of the Federation.

TO RUSH WORK ON
BERKELEY STATION

BERKELEY, June 4.—Brick work on the new Southern Pacific railway station here was started this morning and the building will be rushed. It should be ready for occupancy by December. It is to be of Mission architecture and one of the handsomest station buildings in this part of the state.

SERIOUSLY ILL.

BERKELEY, June 4.—The wife of William Waterbury, who has been ill several days, is now in a critical condition. Mrs. Waterbury contracted a severe cold several days ago, which developed into pneumonia with a slight attack of myocardial fever.

GILLETT IS DISPLACING
SCHMITZ IN CIVIC AFFAIRS

Supervisors Wrangle Over Attempt to Force Forfeiture of the United 'Railroads' Franchise.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—Governor Gillett held conferences yesterday with representatives of civic organizations, which have as their object the improvement of San Francisco. Quietly, but positively, Governor Gillett has displaced Mayor Schmitz in all matters pertaining to the city's welfare. The "complexion" of the local situation prompted Governor Gillett to take this unusual step.

The board of supervisors had a wrangle yesterday over the attempt of certain members to force the public utilities committee to report on the resolution declaring the franchises of the United Railroads forfeited on account of nonuse. Twitmore, who introduced the resolution, said that the committee had had time to report, and the conditions affecting street car traffic warranted immediate action being taken against the United Railroads.

CAR IS BLOWN UP.

Halght street car No. 1406, west bound, was blown up with nitroglycerine at Cole street last night. The car was badly wrecked, but no one was injured. Daniel J. White, a striking car man, was identified as the man who placed the bomb on the track. When the car passed over the infernal machine the trucks left the track and the side of the car was shattered and the floor of the coach rent asunder. The occupants of the car escaped.

SAYS PUBLIC SUPPORT STRIKE.

Richard Cornelius, president of the Carman's Union, made the following statement:

Mr. Calhoun says that he "had to hang on to the straps on a Sutter street car yesterday. We would respectfully suggest that his hanging to the straps does not pay his fixed charges any more than one swallow makes a summer. The fixed charges of the company have to be paid from the fares of hundreds of thousands of people hanging to the straps. The United Railroads has a very hard task before it if it thinks it can pay its fixed charges with organized labor of this city refusing to patronize its cars. We do not believe it can do it. There are no more cars in operation and it will be a long time before there will be any more unless Mr. Calhoun consents to be reasonable and settle with his employees. We are putting on more buses every day and we regret that we can not get them on faster in order to relieve the strain on our friends, the public, who are so nobly standing by us, and by whose continued assistance we shall win.

THIRD BENEFIT DISBURSED.

J. H. Bowling, secretary-treasurer of the Carman's Union, made the following statement concerning the strike situation yesterday:

"After being confined to bed for two and one-half days with la grippe, I returned to the office of the union this morning to disburse the third week's strike benefit, which amounted to over $10,000. The payments were made with promptness through the various members of the executive board in the car barns, who made the direct payments to the individual members. The reports throughout the system are encouraging, and the men are still remaining as firm as at the commencement of the strike.

"The bus lines are working very successfully, and we find that the business done by each bus is more than is done by any street car in operation. The Carman's Union has been presented by an Eastern company with the proposition of placing in operation an automobile omnibus line upon the streets of San Francisco at a 6-cent fare. This is to be a permanent proposition for the people of this city; the same as is already in successful operation in several Eastern cities. The proposition will be submitted by the executive board to the union at the meeting to be held this afternoon in the Labor Temple."

Purity is Supreme

The materials we use are the best we can buy.
And a partner in our business selects them.

The goodness of Schlitz is due largely to them.

But the supremacy of Schlitz as a home beer has been gained by the fact of its absolute purity.

Purity is not so conspicuous as some qualities in beer, yet it is very expensive. That is why it is rare.

But what does it matter how good a beer is if it is not a pure beer? If its use is unhealthy? If its result is biliousness?

Ask for the Brewery Bottling.

Common beer is sometimes substituted for Schlitz.

To avoid being imposed upon, see that the cork or crown is branded

Schlitz beer is known as the pure beer the world over.

BILL SQUIRES IN ACTION IS LIKE A SIMOON AT SEA
Big Fellow Lashes Out Like a Bengal Tiger and Has a Punch That Is Crucifying in Its Weight.

By T. P. MAGILLIGAN.

A select coterie of boxing fans wandered their way over to San Rafael yesterday afternoon, and saw Joe Thomas, the best welterweight in the world, in action in a spirited two round bout with Bill Squires, the big roundabout, who is booked to meet Tommy Burns at Colma on July 4.

Squires certainly shaped up well. He is a big, powerful man, built largely after the fashion of an Anthropologist. He is a big, powerful man, built largely after the fashion of an Anthropologist. He is a big, powerful man, built largely after the fashion of an Anthropologist.

He is a big, powerful man, built largely after the fashion of an Anthropologist. He is a big, powerful man, built largely after the fashion of an Anthropologist. He is a big, powerful man, built largely after the fashion of an Anthropologist.

body. "And, Holy Moses, what a right hand wallop," remarked the same worthy, when Squires landed a half-hearted right on Thomas' bread closet.

Edgren was also favorably impressed with Squires' style, and if anybody should happen to ask you, this Edgren is a great judge of fighters. He is no slob with the gloves himself, and if he wasn't one of the greatest cartoonists in America he might be a champion fighter.

If ever a man knew the science of self defense that man is Joe Thomas. He is clearly the most graceful man in the ring today.

Watching Thomas boxing is as great a treat as watching a noted artist painting a masterpiece. Joe is a master of his craft. He steps around finely, and he is a master of his craft. He steps around finely, and he is a master of his craft. He steps around finely, and he is a master of his craft.

Anyone who tells you that Jimmy Britt is not in fine shape just speculate in his lamp, and I'll back you up.

The writer saw Britt at San Rafael yesterday, and the little Chesterfield of the ring is in grand condition. He is down to about 140 pounds, and is in position to give to the lightweight limit in a short time.

TOMMY BURNS ARRIVES AT HARBIN SPRINGS.

JIMMY BRITT AND NELSON ARE PRACTICALLY MATCHED
Pair of Star Lightweights May Hook Up at Baseball Park in San Francisco on July 3.

By EDDIE SMITH.

Judging from the reports that are being circulated today, the Jimmy Britt-Battling Nelson third contest, which is scheduled for the 3d of July at the San Francisco ball grounds, is shaping into somewhat of a reality.

It is said, that Jack Gleason has the required permit tucked away in his sleeve at the proper time he will spring it.

Britt is so anxious to meet the Dane that he will fight most any day or night, and as Nolan and Nelson have been idle since the Gans fight at Goldfield, they, too, are anxious to reap some of the golden dollars of the San Francisco fight public. Last night when the men met, Britt immediately went on record as desiring a twenty-round contest. He made no objection to a longer route, however, and if any of the out-of-town clubs make a good bid he would be willing to go to a finish, if necessary, even though the native knows that to go to a finish with the durable Dane means a great handicap to him.

Britt is that anxious to get another chance at the only man who ever knocked him out that he will take all sorts of chances to get it.

Cofoth who has always been Britt's friend since the latter entered the game, is running the Squires-Burns contest on July 4th at Colma, and is naturally against any counter attraction being held the night before.

Jimmy very modestly says that he feels, however, that he is not interfering with the Squires-Burns match, as he believes that many people will be brought to San Francisco to witness the Britt-Nelson fight.

You can't beat that much. When a man has the nerve to stake a claim in which he is to be a pugilist, against what is acknowledged as the best pugilistic card on the calendar, it is going a trifle.

Had that statement come from Willis Britt, the boy manager who no one takes seriously nowadays, it would have been overlooked, but coming from modest (?) Jimmy, oh my!

The date settled, the men then set about framing articles and then set again to fight and sign up the agreement, and that by that time more clubs would in all probability bid for the contest.

One feature of the match-making about, was the selection of a referee. Britt suggested that the referee should be selected ten days before the contest and to this suggestion Nolan offered no objection, and the selection of a third man was laid over to ten days previous to the contest.

The San Francisco public have had enough of the way Nolan does business.

ness and will not care to place any confidence in the match until they are sure an honest and complete man has been chosen to decide the merits of the rival lightweights. Nolan's actions in the O'Brien-Burns scandal have set the unsuspecting ones right on Mr. Billy.

Abe Attell and the Nells, father and son, met last night at Wolf's and wrangled for some time over a return match between Frankie and Abe. The meeting resulted in nothing more than was expected. Abe and the elder Neil indulged in a series of personalities and the conference ended by Abe making the ridiculous demand of 65 per cent, win, loss or draw, if the contest was a finished one, knowing as he surely does, that Neil would not agree to this demand. It looks as if Attell was none too anxious to tangle with the game little fellow, who fights with as much vengeance as his father talks, and who those who know Jim, this means a great deal.

Neil and Abe met sometime ago at Los Angeles and after twenty terrible rounds the Hebrew fighter was given the decision.

Jim Neil has always considered that his boy should have at least received a draw in that contest, and points to the fact that Frankie had the clever Attell cut and bleeding and motioned his eyes, a thing that no other fighter in the business has done for years.

Many of the spectators at the Los Angeles fight are of the opinion that Frankie is the better of the two in a finish fight, and that his gameness will carry him through a longer route than Attell.

The men will meet again, and if the contest is arranged to be for twenty rounds, the entire purse will go to the winner. If the contest is to be a finish fight, then Attell will insist on the 65 per cent cut going to him, win, lose or draw. Jack Walsh was agreed upon as the referee.

Barney Van Buskirk of Maryville will be in San Francisco today looking for a man to fight Cyclone Thompson at that place on the 4th of July. Fred Landers is anxious for the match and may get it. Van has in view several other men, one of whom he may have to bring from the East, chief among them being Unk Russell, who is under the management of Al Young of San Francisco. Russell has been meeting some of the best boys of his class in the East and is rated as one of the best in the game. A match between he and the Cyclone would indeed be a hot one.

Big Jack Johnson left for Philadelphia last night, and he says that he is to meet Bob Fitzsimmons on the 4th of July. Jack may have a match in sight with old Bob and it may come off on the 4th, but to the writer Jack Fitz is too old and fat to fight any such man as Jack Johnson.

"TWENTY-THREE" NUMBER
APPENDED THE RUGBY GAMEStudents of Berkeley High School Will Continue to Play the Old American Game in Same Old Way.

To Ta for Rugby At least we may say this for that game so far as the students of the Berkeley High school are concerned.

Rugby America's national winter sport is good enough for the Berkeley High school boys. An attempt was made last night to get the boys to change from the American game to the "quite English sport" but the spirited lads of the High school put the "nothing doing" sign on the movement, and in the most highly approved American fashion informed the champions of the rugby game that they didn't want any of it, "thank you, sir."

The meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the Assembly hall. It was called by a number of last year's football squad owing to a rumor that the game might be changed.

It was reported that "Prexy" Wheeler was the man behind the movement to have the game changed. The scholars voted the "Prexy" a nice man, and a diplomat fellow to Napoleon III, but they could hardly coincide in his views.

There is a vigorous American protest that the youngsters landed against the innovation, and the old game will be carried on at the old stand by Berkeley High school boys.

Hearing trouble was in store for the coming season, the football men of the High school called a meeting for yesterday afternoon and broached the subject. The attack came as a great surprise on the forces working for the change. As a result the game was thrown into the dust with a majority vote. A Caminetti, a frat lad, spoke for the Rugby game and told of its advantages. His talk met with stings of disapproval.

Don Munro, fullback on last year's team, defended the old American game with stirring words and after several other speakers gave short opinions on the game a vote was taken.

The Rugby game suffered a defeat. There is talk here now that possibly there is influence for the adoption of the new game may result in a change in the Academic League. Should the league decide to follow the new game athletes here will withdraw.

The Olanders defeated the Brooklyns yesterday in a hard game of baseball at the Twenty-third avenue grounds. The score was 17 to 16. The batteries for the Olanders were Verma, pitcher, and Whillan, catcher. Libby, Hess and Conard pitched and caught for the Brooklyns. The Olander pitcher allowed only seven hits and struck out sixteen men. The Olanders wish to challenge any ball team under 18 years of age. Address challenges to R. S. Stratton, 505 East Eleventh street, Oakland.

J. A. Folgers Beat
Fort Baker Nine

FORT BAKER, June 4.—In a game of baseball lasting only one hour and twenty minutes here last Sunday the J. A. Folgers defeated the Fort Baker nine by a score of 1 to 0. The Folgers scored their sole tally in the last inning of the game, which was a pitcher's battle all the way through.

The pitchers on both sides were in great form, and an extra inning game looked likely until the first half of the ninth when Birmingham's single, Luck's sacrifice and Jones' error gave the coffee roasters the game.

ONCE upon a time there was a bumpkin of a country gentleman, who possessed a wonderful goose. Next to Aladdin's lamp this goose was about the main squeeze in the pages of literary imagery.

The wonderful goose had the faculty of laying golden eggs—at the rate of one a day. This pleased the gentleman, out of all proportion to the general allotment of human vanity, and in a short time he was the prominent man of his village. The golden eggs kept piling right up, and the bumpkin waxed fat and lardy in his new found treasure. In short he was the John D. Moneybags of his age, and was picking up the money as fast as a Williams Park book-maker.

FINALLY, as the bumpkin's wealth piled high, his vanity increased out of all proportion, and the lust of gold was upon him. A thought struck the gentleman. "Now thoughts, when not digested, are apt to be very productive of mental dyspepsia."

"WHY," said the bumpkin to his valet, "it is a great idea to cut this goose up and get all the eggs at once."

"Capital idea," replied Mrs. Bumpkin, and Man Bumpkin, seeing no further than his bespectacled nose, applied the stiletto to the wonderful goose.

SINCE those goose days we have had men who have in one way or another slaughtered multitudinous geese of the golden egg.

And right now even Blind Tom can see the San Francisco fight promoters whetting the stiletto for an attack on the goose (or public) that lays the golden eggs, or eagles, for the fight promoters.

JIMMY COFFROTH has staged a Squires-Burns show for July 4. On top of this there is talk of Britt and Nelson fighting in San Francisco July 3. And Thomas and Sullivan are booked for June 26.

THIS isn't another case of bitching the goose or the public we're willing to pass and devote our time to study of the Ladies Book of Flowers.

"REVENGE" seems to be the watchword of some of the members of the fight trust. To a man up a tree it looks as though certain fight promoters, who are talking of a Britt-Nelson match a day prior to the Squires-Burns affair, have this repugnant idea uppermost in their dusty cupolas. But if they lose several thousands of dollars we fear that revenge will be no sweeter to them than a cup of wormwood.

JUST why some of the promoters don't give Joe Thomas a chance to make some money is beyond the writer. If there is one pugilist deserving of the San Francisco public's sympathy it is this same modest and unassuming chap. Why not give him one of the good dates? He's the best fighter, and Burns is the most exciting finish in California today. It's up to the fight promoters to do something for a chap so thoroughly deserving.

THE New York players, fans and press declare that the "Cubs" have turned yellow since their defeat at the hands of the White Sox last fall. If this is the case we know more than one town, Oakland for instance, that would like to sign a carload of yellow players.

THE New York Giants are doing what they can to keep alive the ancient pastime of rowdy baseball. Strikes one, however, that this sort of sport has had its day.

WALTER MCCREDIE ought to have an operation performed for hope in the breast. The disease makes him delicious in his predictions.

ILLER and Dugan divided the card at Gravesend not long ago. It's needless to say who divided the money.

BILLY NOLAN appears to be the Barrabas of the modern prize ring.

NOW that Dray is to captain the Yale team, we wonder if his presence will slow up that otherwise fleet aggregation.

THOSE terrible noises heard in the vicinity of Fillmore and O'Farrell streets last night were not the rumblings of another tremor. It was merely Jim Neil and Abe Attell's representative discussing, in a gentlemanly way, the prospects of a return match between Able and Frankie.

IT is easy to see by the number of pugilistic sacrifices that Joe Thomas has made that he would have been a swell ball player had he devoted his time and attention to that gentle pastime.

AFTER all they are going to race at Nashville and Memphis. The public at those places are already feeling at the padlocks on their pockets to see that the combination is properly adjusted.

THERE is about as much humor in the make-up of Australian Bill Squires as there is in the dame of St. Paul's Cathedral in London.

THE present arrangements of the fight cards in San Francisco no one has been heard to remark "Where does the public come in?"

Here's One That's
Got It on J. Miller

PORTLAND, Ore., June 4.—The Ghosts of Banquo! Wake up and shake yourself. My-terious Billy Smith, who was a great fighter before Adam, is out with the announcement that he is going to break back into the ring again. Here's a chance for someone to sell a Jimmy. Smith wants to fight somebody named Kelly. We suppose it isn't your dear old friend Jimmy Kelly, at whom Billy has his sell purposes aimed.

Next thing one may expect is the announcement in the Here-After Gazette that Billy and Kelly are to get back in the ring.

TURF INTERESTING
NOTES ABOUT
RACING MATTERS
By LEE DEMIER.

Large fields, made up of a fair lot of runners, comprised yesterday's racing program at Williams Park.

Beating was keen on each event and the large Monday gathering succeeded in fattening the bookies' bank-rolls.

By far the most exciting finish of the day was witnessed in the sprint for three-year-olds when Al Lindley, the second choice, in a driving finish, nosed out Combury, the favorite, in the last jump.

Treasure Seeker ran a snarling race and secured the small end of the purse.

Fred Bent, the 4 to 5 favorite, had things his own way in the seven-furlong scramble, and came home on the chin strap. Romaine was the keen contender throughout. Yada was trailing badly and in another jump would have lost the show to the fast coming Yada.

Lee & Son, with their consistent performance, Blagg, and others are on their way to Butte.

Jack Brannan will campaign Cabin, Aaron J. Belle Reed and others at Butte. The horses left yesterday.

Hon. L. J. Forget has been elected chairman of the board of governors of the Tulare Jockey Club, with Bartlett McLennan vice-chairman. The governors administer the affairs of the club house and with them lies the electing of members from the nominations previously approved by the executive committee.

Tom Stevens with his horses headed for Seattle.

Charley Earl, with his bread winner, Alta Spa, are on their way to Seattle.

Harry Morris, a well known turfite, has won the game and departed for Sacramento.

Max Kolb Tells
One on Big Jack

"One of the funniest incidents in my entire professional career occurred in San Francisco," said Max Kolb to a group of fight fans at San Rafael yesterday afternoon.

"I'll never forget one night we were showing in Fresno. Before the curtain went up Big Jack Johnson entered the house and was right in the bald headed row.

As soon as the company smiled him it was a tough job to keep a straight face. His head was shaven close and every time something struck him as being funny, he would open that cave in his face and let out a guffaw.

That was really funny. Well we had a tough time to keep from laughing outright when Johnson rolled those eyes and showed his china closet.

"Now Johnson is so black that when the light was turned low and he shut his eyes and much that we thought he had left the middle circle, but every once in a while he would roll those eyes and open that face of his, and it required the strictest discipline to keep the company from laughing outright at the dary in the front row.

Let me tell you that the presence of Johnson in the house that night came as near breaking up our show for the evening as anything that ever happened in my entire stage career."

Johnny Frayne to Fight F. Edwards

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—While it has been several years since Johnny Frayne has fought an actual ring battle, he has had considerable experience with the mitts, and during his absence from the ring has been busily engaged in training Frankie Neil, Jimmy Britt and Fred Landers. In 1905 he loomed up like the winner of the Olympic Club championship, but lost out in the finals to Joe Carroll, the clever brother of Jimmy Carroll, the present bantam-weight champion. Frayne is now working out with Landers for his coming go with Frankie Edwards before the California club Dreamland pavilion Friday night.

The fact that he has consented to box such an experienced and clever fighter as the Reliance club crack right off the reel indicates how he feels concerning his ability. In speaking of Frayne the other night, Landers said that he deemed him one of the most promising of pugilists in the business and looks for him to win from all the featherweights and bonafide lightweights now pulling down purses in the local four-round bouts. As far as condition is concerned, no athlete ever entered a ring better prepared than he will next Friday, and if Edwards cops him, Frayne can offer no excuse on the score of condition. The Oakland Boxer is doing his training at the Reliance club and as the little man drol at Emeryville has managed to extract from his pockets all the coin he has earned during the past year by his efforts in the ring, he will have nothing to occupy his attention except his coming battle with Frayne.

Bill Squires Shies
At Some Large Talk

"Bill Squires is a great fighter," remarked Jimmy Coffroth, "but his knowledge of a English language is somewhat shy of a classical standard."

"I was explaining a proposition to him some time ago, and he stopped abruptly, remarking, 'It is just like that Mr. Coffroth? I replied Yes, Mr. Squires, it is just like that in the abstract. I can't explain it to you fully in the concrete."

The words "abstract" and "concrete" sort of muddled Bill. After the conference I overheard him remark to his manager, Barney Reynolds: "A fine chap, but me, if I ever knew he was in the street contracting business before."

NEW YORK, June 4.—A non-sectarian society has been formed in New York for the purpose of making the keepers of public places throughout the country live up to the laws which prohibit discrimination against citizens because of their religious belief.

This society, which is the outgrowth of the recent occurrence at the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel in Atlantic City, when accommodation was refused to some of the relatives of Mrs. Bertha Raynor Frank, already has a large number of Jews and gentiles on its roster.

STEINWAY AND OTHER PIANOS

VICTOR TALKING MACHINES

The Survival of the Fittest

Of the famous pianos, there is but one name remaining free from the taint of commercialism or blameless of resort to questionable expedients to maintain a desirable position. That one is Steinway. The Steinway has lived and prospered in an artistic atmosphere of its own creation; in the repose of conscious superiority, drawing to it the homage of the musical world, and, in turn, through its devotees glorifying the great art of music everywhere. The Steinway Piano has no need of mechanical contrivances to sell it nor of bargain-store methods to extend its reputation. The Steinway Piano survives by right of art and fitness the only uncontaminated, uncontaminated piano, a plastic music-medium for human fingers.

Quiet dignity pervades the Steinway selling everywhere—where you think from surface indications that it is the largest piano business in the world and that the demand is at present beyond the output.

LADY MACBETH REMOVES SPELL

Nance O'Neil Is Abominably Brutal in Shakespeare's Famous Drama.

Miss Nance O'Neil, with the support of the Bishop players, presented what is probably her most ambitious creation at the Liberty Theater last night, viz: Macbeth. This play, on account of the large number of scenes required, is ill adapted for stage presentation, but the Liberty, with its revolving stage, solved the problem and made the presentation possible. The performance, while not a notable one, reflects credit on the management, as well as the talented artists.

Macbeth is a splendid piece of poetic drama, but when placed on the stage is the least pleasing of all Shakespearean plays. As literature it is a treasure, but as a playing drama it is tiresome and impossible—this may be heresy, but heresy is much needed in our dramatic education today.

Lady Macbeth, the leading role in this particular production on account of Miss O'Neil's prominence, is abominably brutal, as the present day stage right, but when it is met with the organs it is all wrong; still normal people could never produce drama and Shakespeare knew it. If ever I fell in love with an actress, let her play Lady Macbeth and the spell would be broken. I am eternally immune from ever falling in love with Nance O'Neil, because as Macbeth says, (act 3, sec. 2), and acts too well, "we make our faces visards to our hearts, disguising what they are."

ADMIRE ART.

I admire her art, however, and in the character of Lady Macbeth she is so much of the artist that one forgets the actress and sees only the simulation of crude, cunning anger, and animal affection. Her creation of wilful suffering woman, suffering, born from a wounded vital temperament, rather than the anguish of a tortured soul; that is the character she works up to, not a cruel woman, so much as a vain ambitious one, her rages are superb, the outlet of an ambition tortured soul, and her majestic figure lends itself to the queenly woman.

Miss O'Neil's picture is one full of dramatic power, yet I hope, in all kindness I say it, she will never play the role in Oakland again, or until at least we have a play-goers' club that can fill a theater.

STEVENS LOSES DRAWL.

Lander Stevens as Macbeth surprised his friends when he loses that drawl in his speech as he occasionally does, so pleasing in many roles, he comes near being great as Macbeth. The minor characters were all well carried, the scenery and staging were perfect.

Macbeth will be played all week, with Matinees Saturday and Sunday. Miss O'Neil in Le Fosca will be the offering next week.

BERKELEY TO HAVE A NEW FIRE HOUSE

BERKELEY, June 4.—Plans have been drawn for a new engine house to be situated where the fire house now stands on Durant avenue, between Shattuck avenue and Fulton street. The building will be of brick, two stories high, with a foundation of reinforced concrete.

The new engine will be housed in this building upon its completion. The estimated cost of this structure is $22,000.

Captain Sidrore of the West Berkeley fire house, will soon have two new chemical wagons, which will be much needed addition in the West End.

For some time past the manufacturers in that district have been asking for proper fire protection, deeming the present equipment inadequate.

It is probable that a new fire house will be erected in South Berkeley in the near future, as another one in that district is much in demand. Nothing definite has been done in regard to the matter as yet.

VISITORS SEEN ABOUT BERKELEY CORRIDORS

BERKELEY, June 4.—Mrs. H. A. Isenberg and son, of Honolulu, accompanied by Mrs. Isenberg's sister, Miss Deussenberg, of San Francisco, are guests at the Hotel Carleton. Mrs. Isenberg is negotiating for the purchase of a beautiful residence in North Berkeley, where she will make her future home. She is a member of a wealthy Hawaiian family, prominent in the sugar industry of the islands.

Mr. and Mrs. W. McWauh and Miss McWauh, of Melbourne, Australia, are guests at the Hotel Carleton, en route to England.

Mrs. Charles L. Spencer, of Denver, in the sugar industry of the islands.

Mrs. George Parker, Mrs. Frank Thomas, Mrs. L. S. Perry and Mrs. J. N. Stevenson, of Topeka, are passing the summer in Berkeley with their families.

MESSANGER BOYS IN TOILS OF THE LAW

Three youths, ranging in ages from 14 to 19 years, are in the city prison, charged with petty larceny. Frank Pimental, a cash boy, was arrested at Twelfth and West streets last night, accused of stealing a bicycle from another youth, J. Pimental, Walter Pimental, a messenger boy, employed by the Independent Messenger Company at 408 Fifth street, is charged with having stolen a stick pin, valued at $30, from Ray Lewis, a fellow messenger boy. The latter claims that Pimental stole the pin from his cravat. Lee Dolan, another messenger, was also arrested on a petty larceny charge.

A SPLENDID BILL

The bill being presented this week at the Park Theater, Alameda, is drawing large crowds nightly. Mr. Frankenberg, the resident manager, has secured some of the very best talent on the vaudeville stage and as he gives but one performance nightly, lasting from an hour and thirty minutes to two hours, his patrons certainly secure their money's worth.

Special mention is made of Captain John Hottum, the world's champion cannon ball catcher, and well it should be made. The cannon ball, 21 pounds, was fired from the cannon while standing but a few feet from the mouth. This act alone is highly appreciated and well worth the price of admission, 10, 20 and 30 cents.
